Section 6

Duty of Disclosure

Your duty of disclosure:

Before you enter into a life insurance contract in respect of your life, you have a duty to tell the insurer anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, which may affect the insurer's decision to provide the insurance and on what terms.

You have this duty of disclosure until the insurance is provided.

You have the same duty before you extend, vary or reinstate the contract.

You do not need to tell the insurer anything that:

- reduces the risk of the insurance; or
- is common knowledge; or
- the insurer knows or should know as an insurer; or
- the insurer waives the duty to tell the insurer about.

If you do not tell the insurer something that you know, or you could reasonably be expected to know, it may affect the insurer's decision to provide the insurance and on what terms. This may be treated as a failure by you entering into the contract to comply with your duty of disclosure.

If you do not tell the insurer something

In exercising the following rights, the insurer may consider whether different types of cover can constitute separate contracts of life insurance. If the insurer does, it may apply the following rights separately to each type of cover.

If you do not tell the insurer anything you are required to, and the insurer would not have provided the insurance if they had been told, the insurer may avoid the contract within 3 years of entering into it.

If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract, it may at any time reduce the amount of insurance provided.

This would be worked out using a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had told the insurer everything you should have. However if the contract has a surrender value or provides cover on death, the insurer may only exercise this right within 3 years of entering into the contract.

If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract or reduce the amount of insurance provided, it may, at any time, vary the contract in a way that places the insurer in the same position it would have been in if you had told the insurer everything you should have. However, this right does not apply if the contract has a surrender value or provides cover on death.

If the failure to comply with the duty of disclosure is fraudulent, the insurer may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

Section 7

Declaration and signature

I acknowledge that:

- if I do not fully complete, sign and date this application, I will not be eligible to transfer my existing cover to ESSSuper; and
- if the insurer accepts my application, my cover will commence with ESSSuper once my previous cover with my former fund has been cancelled, and the balance transferred to the ESSSuper Accumulation Plan and
- ESSSuper and the Insurer may undertake appropriate enquiry and investigation to verify the answers I have provided; and
- ESSSuper and the Insurer may investigate whether any restrictions that may have applied within the terms of the policy document were applicable to the type and/or level of cover stated on the up-to-date statement from the former fund; and
- I agree to provide ESSSuper or the Insurer with access to the health evidence I provided to my former fund in my application for cover and any non-disclosure to a former fund may be acted upon by ESSSuper or their insurer; and
- should it become apparent to ESSSuper or the insurer that I have not undertaken the requirements that I confirmed in Section 4, then any insured benefit that may be payable to me or my estate or my beneficiaries from ESSSuper may be reduced by the insured amount paid or payable from my former fund; an associated Section or Division of the former fund; or any policy issued under any option that I exercised, as a consequence of my failure to abide by these conditions. This reduction in benefit will, however, be limited to the extent that my benefit from ESSSuper is no less than I would have been eligible to receive under the terms of the policy between ESSSuper and the insurer had I not applied for a transfer of cover; and
- I understand that only the Death, TPD and Income Protection Cover specified in Section 2 can be transferred to ESSSuper and that no other cover provided by my former fund can be transferred.

You are applying to enter into a contract of insurance.

As such, you have a duty to disclose all relevant information. Failing to provide the insurer with full and accurate information could result in your insurance cover being cancelled and any claim for benefits could be denied, so it is vital you answer all questions fully and accurately.

Although we ask you specific health questions in Section 5, you should also tell us about any other information that will impact on the insurer's decision to offer you insurance cover, regardless of whether you deem it to be material or important. This includes current medical issues that require investigation, medication or treatment, even if a diagnosis has not been made.

This obligation applies to all insurance cover relating to this application, including amounts transferred from another fund. This means you could be placed in a position where you have no insurance cover if we later find you have not answered all questions fully and accurately.

Your Duty of Disclosure continues until you receive written confirmation your application has been accepted. You must contact the insurer if there is any change in your health or circumstances that are relevant to the insurer's decision on your application.

The full Duty of Disclosure is contained in Section 6 within this document and it is important you read it carefully.

Having read the above, I declare the information I have provided is honest, true and complete.
