About ESSSuper

We're one of Australia's largest super funds with over 128,000 members and over $35 billion in funds under management. We have expanded our service offering to include fee-for-service (commission free) financial advice provided by a licensed financial planning organisation*. We have a range of products that can be used now, throughout your career and in retirement, including insurance options tailored for operational employees.

Keeping it simple

This simple super guide outlines your options available with ESSSuper throughout your career and in retirement.

So, enjoy reading our simple super guide and take the steps toward a brighter financial future.

* ESSSuper has an arrangement with Link Advice Pty Ltd (Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL) No. 258145) (Link Advice) under which Link Advice and its authorised representatives may provide you with fee-for-service (commission free) financial product advice. This means you only pay for the time it takes to provide you with the advice or to complete a financial plan. Under this arrangement, Link Advice authorises certain qualified ESSSuper financial advisers to provide financial product advice to ESSSuper members. Although these financial advisers are employed by ESSSuper, the advice will be provided under Link Advice's AFSL and Link Advice is responsible for the financial services advice provided to you. ESSSuper pays Link Advice a fee for this service. However, neither the Board, ESSSuper nor the Victorian Government guarantee or endorse any advice given by Link Advice or its authorised representatives.

Your super: an overview

Super may not be high on your list of priorities. But at ESSSuper, our aim is to ensure you are armed with all the information you need to understand your super throughout your career.

Follow our five steps to see where your super will take you.

1. Prior employment

🔍 Employed prior to joining the academy

- You may already have other superannuation accounts with a retail or industry fund.
- You can track down your super including 'lost' super via www.ato.gov.au/superseeker

2. Training

📌 While training at the academy

- You will have an active ESSSuper Accumulation Plan as you undergo training.
- SG (employer contributions) will be paid into the Accumulation Plan during your initial training period prior to being sworn in.
- You are not a member of the ESSSuper ESSS Defined Benefit (DB) Fund until you are sworn in.
- Police Recruits only: Although you are not a member of the ESSS DB Fund while you undergo training, you do receive free operational death and disability benefits during this time.
- You have the option to track down and consolidate¹ any other super accounts at any time, including 'lost' super, through Members Online at esssuper.com.au/login, in the Consolidate super menu.

¹ You should check any insurance arrangements that may be forfeited, or any other effects this transfer may have on your benefits, before rolling your money into our fund.

3. Commence employment

i With Victoria Police

- Your ESSSuper ESSS DB Fund membership commences.
- Your operational death and disability benefits cover you at home and work.
- You can attend a webinar or seek assistance from an ESSSuper Member Education Consultant on making the most of your super.
- You can revisit and change your contribution rate via Members Online, to ensure your retirement savings remain on track.
- You can increase your benefits in the DB Fund by increasing your contribution rate. If you are contributing at the maximum rate to your DB fund and want to accumulate even more super, you may be able to make additional contributions to another super account. Monitor your contributions to super as there are government limits on how much you and your employer(s) can contribute. A number of ESSS DB members join the ESSSuper Accumulation Plan to do this. For more information about the ESSSuper Accumulation Plan, please obtain a copy of the PDS available from our website at esssuper.com.au/pds. You can also use the ESSSuper Accumulation Plan to purchase additional death and disability insurance. Insurance premiums are charged in the Accumulation Plan and will vary based on the level of cover you select.[^]

[^]Insurance cover is subject to eligibility criteria and other terms and conditions in the Policy. Please read the Accumulation Plan PDS, available on our website at esssuper.com.au/pds, for more information.

4. While you are working

i Resign/change careers before retirement age

- You can seek general advice from an ESSSuper Member Education Consultant to understand your entitlements and options.
- If you want to stay with ESSSuper, you can open an ESSSuper Accumulation Plan. The Accumulation Plan can also accept contributions from your new employer.
- Your resignation benefit in the ESSS DB Fund is paid as a lump sum to members who resign or are dismissed from their employment prior to 50 years of age. Benefits paid on resignation are based on your contribution rate, age, period of membership and employment status. Please see the ESSS Defined Benefit Fund PDS available on our website at esssuper.com.au/pds, for more details on how your resignation benefit will be calculated.
- Your retirement benefit, on or after age 50, in the ESSS DB Fund will be calculated based on the defined benefit formula and you will have the option to transfer your taxed benefit to ESSSuper's Accumulation Plan, Income Stream (subject to eligibility), or another complying super fund. An untaxed option is also available for transfer to ESSSuper's Beneficiary Account.
- You are able to stay with ESSSuper until retirement and beyond.

5. Retirement

i Retire from Victoria Police or another employer on or after retirement age

- You can seek general advice from an ESSSuper Member Education Consultant to discuss your retirement options.
- You might also consider getting personal financial advice from our qualified Financial Advisers.*
- You have access to your benefit based on the defined benefit formula plus any Accumulation Plan balance.
- ESSSuper offers a number of superannuation products exclusively for our members. We offer the ESSSuper Income Streams, Accumulation Plan and Beneficiary Account (subject to eligibility). For information on these products, please obtain the relevant PDS available from our website at esssuper.com.au/pds. We can also transfer/rollover your retirement savings to another complying fund.
- Transition to retirement: ESSS DB members who have reached preservation age are eligible to convert part of their accrued benefit to an ESSSuper Working Income Stream. Members may use a minimum of 20% of their accrued ESSS DB benefit up to a maximum of 50%.
- Enjoy retirement with your hard earned super!

Your super: in detail

ESSSuper's ESSS Defined Benefit (DB) Fund, is specifically designed to suit the unique superannuation needs of Victorian emergency services workers such as you.

Super isn't simple. We certainly don't pretend that it is. What is certain is that we all need it. You've joined one of the most exclusive defined benefit funds in Australia, so we'll endeavour to make understanding your super simple for you.

What is a defined benefit fund?

Rather than your employer paying the standard superannuation guarantee (SG) contributions that are subject to investment market performance, you are entitled to a defined benefit where you are guaranteed a specified amount in the event of resignation*, retrenchment, retirement, disability, ill health or death. This specified amount is based on a fixed formula that includes your Final Average Salary and your accrued Benefit Multiple. Final Average Salary is the average of your salary in the last two years of service. Your Benefit Multiple is determined by the contribution rate you pay into your ESSS DB Fund, the length of time you have been a member and whether you work full time or part time.

*Benefits paid on resignation are based on your contribution rate, age, period of membership and employment status as explained under 'Resignation (or dismissal) benefit' on page 15 of the PDS.

In most cases, the maximum taxed Benefit Multiple on retirement (including retirement due to disability), resignation or retrenchment will be 7.5 times your Final Average Salary. Your maximum Benefit Multiple can be reached by working full time and contributing your maximum contribution rate (see table opposite) for 30 years.

Because of these fixed formulas, defined benefit funds are also protected from investment market fluctuations, making them a stable option in volatile investment markets.

The ESSS DB Fund is one of only a few defined benefit funds that is still 'open' to new employees in Victoria. So your membership really is exclusive. However, exactly how effective it is for you is dependent on how you use it now and in the future.

Note: You become a member of the DB Fund only after you have completed your training and are a sworn Victoria Police employee. As you undergo your training, you are a member of the Accumulation Plan – full details of the Accumulation Plan are outlined in the Accumulation Plan Product Disclosure Statement available on our website at esssuper.com.au/pds

Choosing your contribution rate

It is not compulsory to contribute to your super. However, it pays to understand the relationship between the amount you contribute into your ESSS DB Fund and the size of the benefit you will receive.

Your Benefit Multiple, which is part of the formula used to calculate your benefit, accrues according to your contribution rate(s) during your period of membership. This essentially means that the more money you contribute, the greater your benefits will be.

The following table shows the rates you can choose from if you wish to contribute to your ESSS DB Fund:

Prescribed contribution rates
Contribution rate (after tax)	3.0%	5.0%	6.0%	7.0%
Equivalent contribution rate ² (before tax)	3.6%	5.9%	7.1%	8.3%

You can choose to contribute from your before tax salary (salary sacrifice) or after tax salary. By contributing from your before tax salary, your contributions are deducted from your salary before tax is applied, reducing your taxable income. To determine if salary sacrifice is a suitable option for you, check out our salary sacrifice calculator at esssuper.com.au/calculators

The equivalent rates ensure that the benefit accrual rate is the same whether you choose to pay from your before or after tax salary. If you choose not to contribute for a period of time, or contribute less than the maximum rate, there are special catch-up rates available to enable you to increase the rate at which your benefit accrues. Full details of this option are outlined in the ESSS Defined Benefit Fund PDS available on our website at esssuper.com.au/pds

You have the option of changing your preferred contribution rate once per calendar year. So, if you initially decide to not contribute, in any future year of service, you can change your rate online by logging into your Members Online account at esssuper.com.au/login and navigating to the Contributions / Change contribution rate menu.

²Equivalent contribution rate is the after tax rate increased to allow for the 15% contributions tax so that an equivalent net amount is contributed to your super.

Contributing whilst on parental leave

Effective 23 October 2019, members on unpaid parental leave will be able to elect their notional contribution rate whilst on leave in the first 12 months.

You will accrue contribution arrears during this period of leave - this will need to be paid on your return to work. A repayment plan can be arranged on your return to work.

Can I pay more into my ESSS DB Fund?

The simple answer is no. Your ESSS DB Fund accepts prescribed amounts up to a maximum contribution rate and catch up rates (where eligible) only, as outlined in the contribution rate table on page 6. ESSSuper's Accumulation Plan accepts all types of additional contributions including personal contributions, transfers or rollovers from other super funds and superannuation guarantee contributions from other employers.

Contribution limits (caps)

The Federal Government sets limits (called contribution caps) on the amount of contributions made to all of your super accounts in a financial year. Any contributions above these contribution caps are subject to extra tax.

For more information about contribution caps refer to www.ato.gov.au or call us on 1300 650 161.

On reaching your maximum benefit multiple

If you reach your maximum benefit multiple, ESSSuper will advise you and your pay office in writing and your contributions will cease. Your benefit will continue to grow in line with any increases in your superable salary.

Effective 1 July 2019, members who have reached the maximum multiple will be eligible to receive additional contributions from their employer to be paid into the ESSSuper Accumulation Plan. For 2021/22 these contributions will be paid at a rate of 6% of the member's salary and will increase to 12% by 1 July 2026. These are reportable concessional contributions which count towards your concessional contributions cap.

Do you have super with another fund?

Have you worked in at least one other job before making your decision to join Victoria Police? If so, you should have at least one super account elsewhere. It's even possible to have multiple super accounts, which could mean you are paying unnecessary fees.

Also, if you have moved home and have not updated your details with each super fund, you may have been classified as a 'lost' member. If you provide your consent to ESSSuper, we can search the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) on your behalf for other superannuation accounts. Simply log into your Members Online account at esssuper.com.au/login and navigate to the Consolidate super menu.

At this point, you may choose to consolidate³ any super you might have from other super funds. ESSSuper's Accumulation Plan is a product we provide to allow DB members to accumulate additional super. The ESSSuper Accumulation Plan can accept rollovers from other superannuation funds. The benefits of keeping all your super in one fund include:

- you only pay one set of fees
- it is easier to manage and keep track of your super, and
- you will reduce the number of statements and paperwork you receive.

An account you can keep for life

As an ESSSuper member, you can use an Accumulation Plan wherever life may take you both during and after working with Victoria Police. This means you may never need another super fund. So, before life with Victoria Police gets too hectic, it's a great time to consolidate all your other super account balances into one account.

Consolidate your super today!

It's very easy to do, simply:

1. Log into your Members Online account at esssuper.com.au/login
2. Navigate to the Consolidate super menu
3. Provide consent for an ATO super search
4. Select which funds to consolidate.

We'll take care of the rest and arrange for your super to be transferred into your new Accumulation Plan on your behalf.

ESSSuper can even arrange to take over any insurance cover you may have.⁴

For more information about opening an ESSSuper Accumulation Plan account, please refer to the Accumulation Plan PDS or visit our website at esssuper.com.au

³ Cancellation of your account may affect any insurance cover or other benefits you have with that fund.

⁴ Transferring your insurance to ESSSuper may result in an increase or decrease in premiums.

Major injury? We've got your back!

Your role in helping the community is vital; you should, however, also protect yourself and your loved ones in the event of a major injury, illness or death. Your ESSS DB Fund includes death and disability benefits at no additional cost to you. This is a formula based cover that projects your service to age 55.

To help you keep track of your death and disability benefits payable, we include these details on your Annual Benefit Statement each year.

Insurance considerations

In assessing your death and disability cover, you may wish to consider:

- Do you need additional insurance?
Think about how much you would need to live on if you were off work for a long period due to an illness, or how much your family would need in the event of your death. You may find that the death and disability benefits provided in your ESSS DB Fund are not enough to suit your needs.
- Are you joining Victoria Police later in life?
You may find that your death and disability cover is less than those who are younger, as the projected service to age 55 will be less.

If any of the above are relevant to you, you may wish to consider purchasing additional insurance. The Accumulation Plan offers a range of insurance options, including Death and Total and Permanent Disablement as well as Income Protection, to suit your needs.⁵

And, the best news is, with both the ESSS DB Fund and Accumulation Plan insurance options⁶ you are covered 24/7 for injury, illness or death, anywhere, any time – not just when you are at work. Take a look at our insurance premium calculator at esssuper.com.au/calculators to help work out how much cover you need.

It's in the detail

There are of course many more details on how your insurance options work. More information on the ESSS DB Fund death and disability cover is available in the ESSS Defined Benefit Fund PDS. Similarly, more information on the Accumulation Plan insurance options is available in the Accumulation Plan PDS. Both documents can be found on our website at esssuper.com.au/pds or by calling us on 1300 650 161.

Claiming your insurance benefit

If you are ever in a situation where you are considering applying for a disability benefit, download and read the Claiming a Disability Benefit brochure from our website at esssuper.com.au/publications which outlines the requirements for claiming a disability benefit from the ESSS DB Fund. Depending on medical evidence, the Board may approve you for a temporary, permanent or ill health disability benefit.

⁵ Subject to underwriting and acceptance limitations as provided by the Fund's Insurer.

⁶ Transferring your insurance to ESSSuper may result in an increase or decrease in premiums.

⚠ Contribution level linked to death and disability benefit

It is important to understand that the amount you contribute to the ESSS DB Fund has an effect on your death and disability benefit. Not contributing to the fund may reduce any potential death and disability benefit you may be entitled to. The following example shows the difference to your death benefits by contributing at various rates.

Contribution rate 7% (Benefit multiple of 28%)

Joins at 25 but dies at 45

20 years x 28% = 560% or 5.60 x FAS

Plus projected benefit multiple to age 55

10 years x 28% = 280% or 2.80 x FAS
8.40 x FAS

Maximum benefit of 8.40 x Final Average Salary payable to dependants or nominees

Contribution rate 0% (Benefit multiple of 10%)

Joins at 25 but dies at 45

20 years x 10% = 200% or 2.00 x FAS

Plus projected benefit multiple to age 55

10 years x 40%* = 400% or 4.00 x FAS
6.00 x FAS

*An accrual rate of 40% has been used to calculate a prospective benefit from 1 July 2019. This is applicable where members have not contributed at the highest rate of 7% over the life of their membership.

Reduced benefit of 6.00 x Final Average Salary payable to dependants or nominees

We'll help you now and in the future

There are many things to consider both today and when you are winding down for retirement: Will I have enough super? How can I boost my super? What can I do to ensure I make the most of what I have? Is there anything else I can do now to prepare me for later?

Sound confusing? It doesn't need to be

At ESSSuper, we know you work hard for your money, so we aim to make your super work hard for you. But it's not just about looking after your super. It's about helping you understand your super by offering a range of quality education and advice services. If you have any questions about your ESSS DB Fund or about opening an Accumulation Plan, we're here to help.

- Dedicated Member Service Centre
Our Member Service Centre is available by calling 1300 650 161 between 8:30am and 5:00pm Monday to Friday. Our Consultants can assist you with your super, make appointments to see a Member Education Consultant and book you into any of our super education webinars.
- General advice appointments
Our Member Education Consultants offer individual consultations at our office or your workplace. They can help explain your options, provide you with benefit estimates, assist with any ESSSuper forms, and refer you to a Member Education Adviser or Financial Adviser if required.
- Financial advice services
ESSSuper has an arrangement with Link Advice Pty Ltd (AFSL No. 258145) to provide ESSSuper members with fee-for-service (commission free) financial product advice. This means you only pay for the time it takes to provide you with the advice or to complete a financial plan. A qualified financial adviser can provide financial advice specific to your personal needs, goals and financial situation. Personal financial advice is available on single super topics such as choosing an investment option or retirement adequacy. For more detailed advice comprehensive financial plans are also available.*

- Online access to your super 24/7
Through our Members Online service, your super account details are available whenever you need them. You can securely check your current account balance, transaction history and read important messages and past statements. Members Online gives you the power to update your details, change your contribution rate, nominate a beneficiary, and more. You also get access to AssistMe, which can provide you with an estimated retirement balance and how long it may last. AssistMe also contains articles to help you better understand your super. Log in or register at esssuper.com.au/members-online
- Super education webinars
Our webinars have been designed to help you understand your super during various stages of your life. Details of upcoming webinars are displayed on our website. Bookings are essential as places are limited.

With so many things to consider, it's good to know your super will always be in good hands. So don't delay, get a head start and get the most out of your ESSSuper membership today.
